Ch. Léoville Poyferré

2018 bookmarks a new page in the history of Château Léoville Poyferré. Over the years, Didier Cuvelier contributed to the development of the property's international reputation. Sara Lecompte Cuvelier continues to pursue the family's quest for ultimate quality, while taking action to face today's environmental challenges.

Taste

Léoville Poyferré 2016 is a hugely powerful, engaging and lively St Julien. With its enormous concentration and pronounced tannin, it is perhaps the appellation's most tannic wine. As such, it needs many years of bottle aging to show its full potential. An overwhelming rush of aromas reaches the palette: dark fruit, leather, smoke, tobacco and chocolate.
